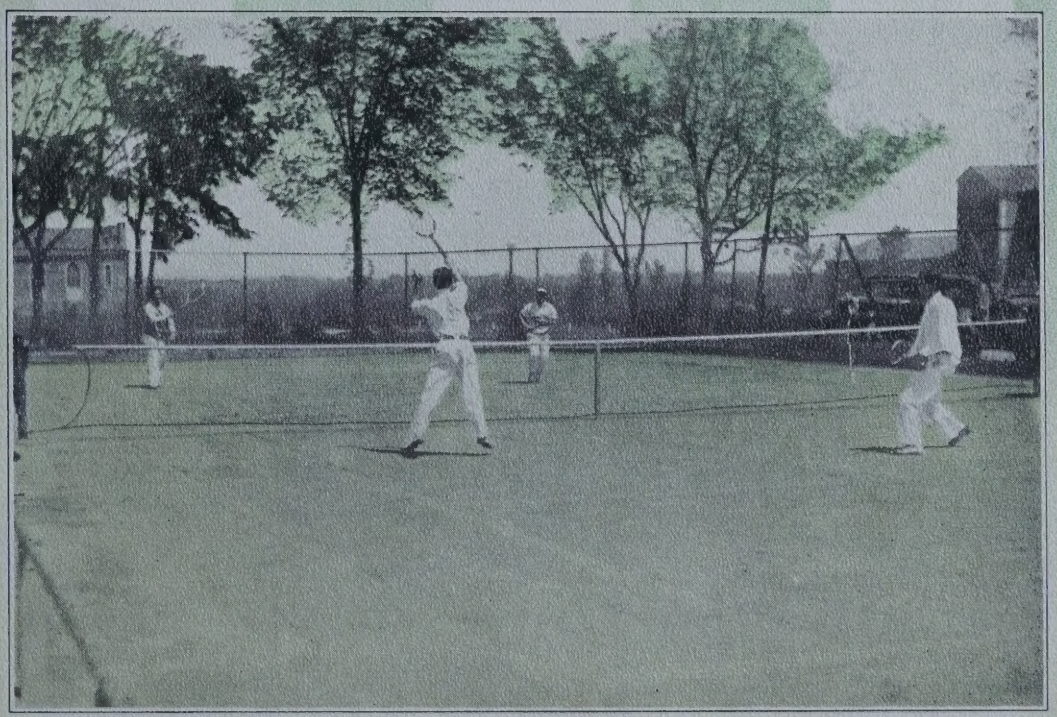
C71UT

COLORADO ALUMNUS

APRIL • NINETEEN THIRTY-ONE



VOLUME XXI NUMBER VIII

The Colorado Alumnus

Published every month except July and August by the Associated Alumni of the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo.

Volume XXI — April, 1931 — Number VIII

Ralph L. Crosman, Editor.
Zell F. Mabee, Associate Editor and Business Manager.
Robert C. Looney, Assistant Editor
Advertising rates on application.

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in advance. Manuscripts for publication are solicited. Changes in address should be reported promptly to insure delivery of the magazine.

Entered as second-class matter, June 1, 1911, at the postoffice at Boulder, Colorado, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Member of American Alumni Council.

Associated Alumni of the University of Colorado

OFFICERS

President: Robert R. Knowles, Superintendent of Schools, Sterling, Colo.
Vice-President: Mrs. Virginia Hardin Stearns, 1615 Madison, Denver, Colo.
Executive Secretary: Ralph L. Crosman, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo.
Assistant Secretary: Zell F. Mabee, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo.

DIRECTORS

Elizabeth Sparhawk, 939 Pearl Street, Denver, Colo.
C. C. Coffin, Fort Collins, Colo.
Mrs. Portia Olwin Woodbury, Boulder, Colo.
Frank H. Prouty, Exchange Bldg., Denver, Colo.

University of Colorado Alumni Clubs

CASPER, WYO.

Secretary.....Mrs. J. B. Walker
412 South Jefferson Street

CHICAGO, ILL.

President.....A. H. Meyer, '24

Vice-President.....Charles Lindrooth, '23

Secretary.....Mrs. Chas. E. Shaw, '04
921 George Street

Treasurer.....Nick DiFillips, '25
1126 Harrison Avenue, Oak Park

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS—R. E. Hieronymous, Mrs. Walter Lovelace, Mrs. E. G. Carpenter, Harry Shubart.

CHEYENNE, WYO.

President.....Mrs. Willa Wales Corbett, '12
1314 W. 31st Street

Secretary.....Louise O'Leary
2815 Carey Avenue

DENVER

President.....Dr. Virgil Sells, '21
Republic Building

Secretary-Treasurer...Elizabeth Sparhawk, '23
939 Pearl Street

DURANGO

President.....James M. Noland, '21
Vice-President.....Mrs. A. W. Ayres, '00
Secretary-Treasurer.....John A. Lee, '22

FORT MORGAN

President.....Corbin Robison, '09
313 Walnut Street

Secretary.....Eugene Howard, ex-'24
702 Lincoln Street

GLENWOOD SPRINGS

President.....Eleanor Noonan, '23
Secretary.....Gladys MacRae, '23

GRAND JUNCTION

President.....Clifford Houston
Secretary.....Ruth Derreberry

GREELEY

Secretary.....Wm. M. Williams, ex-'20
Care Welt County News

GUNNISON

President.....Ada Kansgen, '12

LA JUNTA

President.....Warner D. Bailey, '14
910 Carson

Secretary.....Mrs. Ralph Owens

LAMAR

President.....John Will Merrill, ex-'24
Secretary.....Edward Applegate, '24
204 South Main

LEADVILLE

President.....Eugene A. Bond, '13
Vice-President....Dr. Franklin McDonald, '17
Secretary.....Katherine Leslie Whitman, '13

LONGMONT

Secretary.....James Donovan, '17

MONTE VISTA

President.....Mrs. Robert E. Clark, '08
Vice-President.....H. M. Martin, ex-'28
Secretary.....H. M. Howard, '07

NEW YORK

President.....Ben-Fleming Sessel, '23
Vice-President.....Pattie Field, '21
Secretary-Treasurer.....George Beveridge, '23

PITTSBURGH

President.....E. N. Fabrizio, '24
Vice-President.....W. G. McCanne, '25
Secretary-Treasurer.....Albert Ericson
2221 Delaware Ave., Swissvale, Pa.

PUEBLO

President.....Mr. W. O. Peterson
226 East 2nd Avenue

Vice-President.....Dorothy McPherson
410 West Routt Avenue

Secretary....Mrs. Bertha Hoskins Morlan, '18
155 Melrose Avenue

SAGUACHE

President.....Mrs. Mary Garvin Woodard, '16
Secretary.....R. R. Tarbell, '13

SALIDA

President.....Catherine Parker, '26
Vice-President.....Lawrence Barrett, '29
Secretary.....Francis W. Reardon, '29

SALT LAKE CITY

President.....John Salberg, '08
1428 Yale Avenue

Secretary.....R. Leslie Hedrick
309 Atlas Building, Salt Lake City

SAN JUAN BASIN

President.....John B. O'Rourke, '12
Vice-President.....Mrs. May Sloan Ayres, '00
Secretary.....James M. Noland, '23

SCHENECTADY-PITTSFIELD

President.....Colton W. Babcock, '28
Secretary.....Virginia Brown Curlee, '29
Chairman Program Com.....Joseph Setler, '28

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

President.....Wayne A. Howard
Office: 2525 East 37th Street, Los Angeles
Residence: 1905 Monte Vista Drive, Whittier

Secretary.....Wallace X. Rawles
Editor International News
Herald Building, Los Angeles, Calif.

SEATTLE

President.....Mrs. Mildred Johnson Dodge
4014 Fifty-sixth Street, S.W., Seattle, Wash.
Vice-President.....Mrs. Frances W. Macbride
Secretary-Treasurer.....H. E. Sovereign

STERLING

President.....Mrs. W. Mabry King
Vice-President.....L. G. Giacomini, '13
113 Hamilton Street
Secretary-Treasurer...Mrs. Stanley Teviotdale

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL

President.....Sidney F. Morris
4812 Lyndale Avenue, South Minneapolis
Vice-President.....J. F. Mayall
569 Portland Avenue, St. Paul
Secretary.....Mrs. Gordon Rowe, '16
1465 West 33rd Street

TRINIDAD

President.....Burtis Shattuck, '18
Vice-President.....Joseph Martinez, '24
Secretary.....Mrs. Gordon Rowe, '16
816 Pine Street

WALSENBURG

Secretary.....George Blickhahn, '11

WASHINGTON, D. C.

President.....Capt. Fred E. Hagen, '05
4208 Chesapeake Street
Vice-President.....John H. Libby, '14
Transportation Bldg.
Secretary.....Anne Larrabee....ex-'11
3601 Connecticut Avenue
Treasurer.....Charles P. Swindler, '16
1266 National Press Bldg.

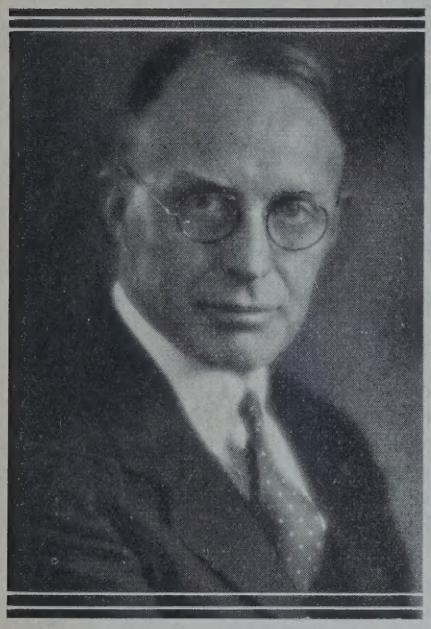
C
C 71aT
cop. 2

The COLORADO ALUMNUS

Volume 21 Boulder, Colorado, April, 1931 Number 8

Rogers Goes to Washington

Robert L. Stearns Chosen As Active Dean of U. C. Law School to Fill Vacancy Caused by Rogers' Appointment



ASSISTANT SECRETARY ROGERS

CONGRATULATIONS had not ceased coming to the University of Colorado on the appointment of its Law School Dean, James Grafton Rogers, as an Assistant Secretary of State, when they were renewed because of the appointment of Robert L. Stearns, Denver, a member of the class of 1914, to be Acting Dean of the School during his absence.

Dean Stearns took up his duties soon after Secretary Stimson's appointment of Dean Rogers was confirmed by the United States Senate.

A member of the faculty of Denver University's Law School from 1920 to date, a past president of the Denver Bar Association, a prominent practicing attorney, Dean Stearns is excellently well fitted to carry on at Dean Rogers' desk during the latter's two-year absence in Washington.

Dean Rogers left Boulder March 6, and four days later, in Washington, was sworn into office, succeeding Nelson T. Johnson, who was appointed minister to China more than a year ago.

His duties at his new post are not definitely known. It was reported at the time of his appointment that he would be in charge of some special work relating to Russian affairs, and this report has persisted. It has also been reported that his work would be in connection with Near Eastern affairs. Again, the Baltimore Sun of March 29, carrying his picture on page one, reports him as having administered a gentle rebuke, by means of a letter made public, to "Americanized Italians who have been holding mass meetings in New York and tearing each other's hair over the question of whether Benito Mussolini is a good or bad dictator."

THE GENTLE REBUKE

Says the Sun, continuing: "The rebuke was administered quite impartially both to those who support Mussolini and those who do not, and the suggestion was made that it was time both factions 'ceased to engage in futile controversies' and settled down to the job of being common-sense American citizens."

News of Dean Rogers' appointment reached Boulder while he was in the East. The U. S. Senate confirmed the appointment on February 27. He was sworn in, the oath of office being administered by Miles Shand, of the State Department's Bureau of Appointments, on March 10.

Dean Rogers has been quoted by Boulder newspapers as having said, when he left, "I'll be back," and it was undoubtedly with that idea in mind that President Norlin issued a formal statement when news of the appointment reached Boulder.

"Dean Rogers will be given a leave of absence from the University," stated President Norlin, "in order that he may render this service and that he may get for himself and for the University the benefit of such experience in the Department of State. What temporary arrangements will be made for the School of Law during his absence will be announced in due time." A few days later, the appointment of Dean Stearns was announced from President Norlin's office.

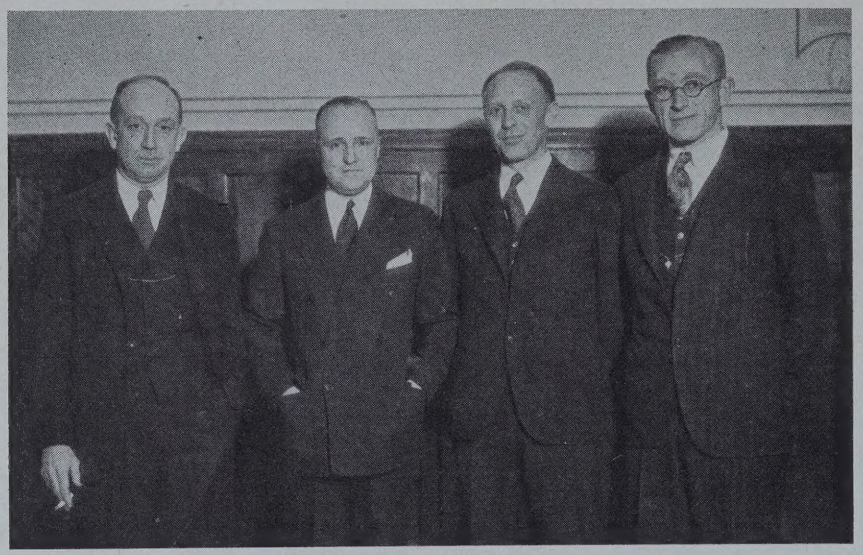
DEAN STEARNS

CONCERNING THE NEW DEAN

Dean Stearns is a member of the Denver law firm of Lewis and Grant. Though retaining his membership, he will devote his entire time to his duties as U. C. Law School Dean.

Dean Stearns was chairman of last fall's Homecoming Day committee. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University in 1914, and his law degree from Columbia in 1916. He is the first alumnus of the University to become a member of his alma mater's faculty with the rank of dean without having first served in other capacities.

Honoring Secretary and Dean



FRIENDS of Dean James Grafton Rogers gave a banquet in his honor, March 4, after his acceptance of the appointment as Assistant Secretary of State had been announced, and also made the occasion one of welcome to Dean Robert L. Stearns. A committee of Law School seniors, Fred North, chairman of the committee and toastmaster at the banquet; Waldo Rogers, William Arthur and Donald Macleay, made the necessary arrangements. Students, faculty, alumni, townspeople and other friends of the two deans attended. The picture above, left to right, shows Glen Strickler, president of the Combined Laws, Dean Stearns, Secretary Rogers and Toastmaster Fred North.

Mrs. Stearns, a member of the class of 1919, was Amy Pitkin. They were married in 1920, and have three children, a son and two daughters.

Dean Stearns is a member of Beta Theta Pi, of Phi Delta Phi. While in school he was editor of the Coloradoan, and was senior cane bearer.

Admitted to the Colorado bar in 1916, he was in the law office of Hughes & Dorsey until June, 1920, except for the war period. Since that time, he has been with Lewis and Grant.

Dean Stearns enlisted as a private in an engineering company in November, 1917, at Camp Funston. Soon he was transferred to a machine gun outfit, and in January, 1918, to the Spruce Production division, Air Service. He received the commission of captain before his discharge.

"The University is fortunate to be able to avail itself of the experience and ability of Mr. Stearns," Dean Rogers said of the appointment. "His work as instructor for ten years in the University of Denver School of Law fits him for his duties here, and his professional standing is attested by his having been president of the Denver Bar Association in 1929."

Dean Stearns majored in history and economics while attending the U. of C. In his senior year, he was an assistant in the U. C. Department of History. In recent years he has taught political science subjects in the D. U. summer school.

Dean and Mrs. Rogers were accompanied to Washington by their youngest child, Hamilton. Their daughter, Lorna, was attending a girl's school in Washington. Ranger Rogers, a student in the U. C., remained in Boulder to complete his work for a degree, which he will receive about the time his father returns to resume his work at the Law School.

Dean Rogers was appointed to his position by Secretary Stimson after the latter had spent a year searching for a man to fill it, according to the Baltimore Sun, which, in its issue of Feb. 21, carried a column article on the appointment.

Excerpts from the article which may be of interest, follow:

THE FOURTH YALE MAN

"In announcing Mr. Rogers' appointment today, Secretary Stimson emphasized the fact that he was a Yale man. Mr. Rogers is the second Yale man Mr. Stimson has appointed recently, there now being four Yale graduates holding high offices in the State Department in contrast to the condition which existed four years ago, when the so-called Harvard clique ruled the State Department under Frank B. Kellogg.

"In addition to Mr. Stimson, himself a Yale graduate, Assistant Secretary White and Allen Klots, special assistant to Mr. Stimson, are both Yale men.

"A few years ago more than half of the high-ranking career diplomats in the State Department were Harvard graduates, while about half of the fledglings admitted every year also bore Harvard's stamp.

"Mr. Rogers is 48 years old. His class at Yale was 1905. Previous to this he studied at St. Paul's School, and after graduating from Yale, took a degree from the Law School of Denver University. Nineteen years later he became its dean.

"In the intervening period he had married Cora May Peabody, daughter of an ex-governor of Colorado, had spent a year cub-reporting on the New York Sun, and another year as Assistant Attorney General of Colorado. In 1919 he entered the firm of Rogers, Shafroth & Rogers. After serving as dean of the Denver University Law School, in 1927 he became dean of the Colorado University Law School.

"Mr. Rogers has taught International Law, and is the author of The Goldenrod Lode, The Third Day, and The Fire of Romance."

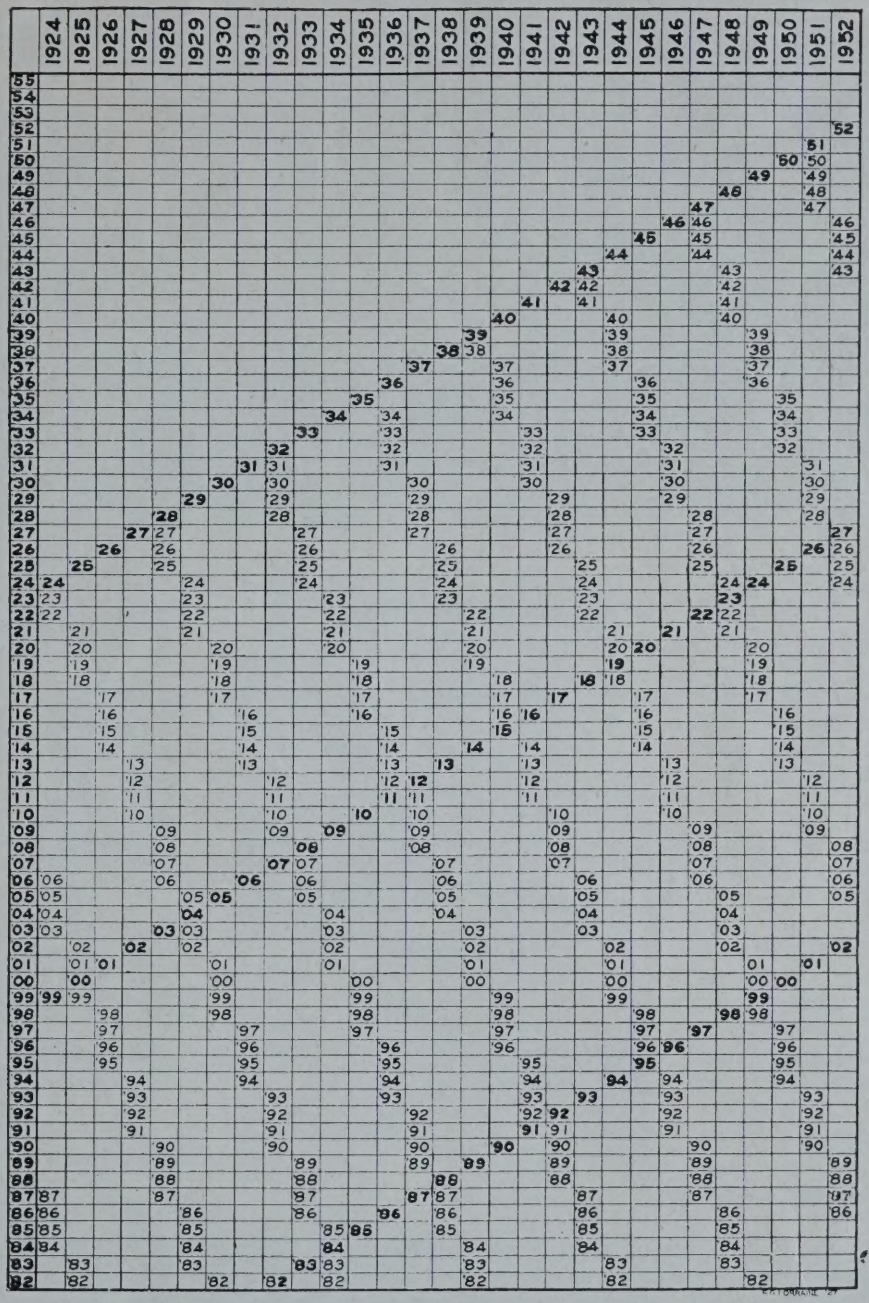
Dean Rogers' Work

DURING the three years that Dean James Grafton Rogers has been Dean of the Law School at the University, he has done three outstanding things in connection with the school.

One is the starting of the Rocky Mountain Law Review, which is now in its third volume. Another is the starting of graduate courses of study in the Law school, and another is the changing of the two-year requirement

(Continued on Page 6)

PLAN OF VARSITY REUNIONS



Reunion Will Be Held Saturday, June 13

REUNION of classes will be held this year on the U. of C. campus on June 13, the Saturday preceding Commencement exercises.

Members of ten classes, including the graduating class of 1931, will take part. Beginning with four class groups of the 1890's, the list comprises the class of 1906, the classes of 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, and the baby class of the institution.

Plans for the day have been started by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. Meeting at the home of Mrs. Portia Olwin Woodbury, in Boulder, April 3, first definite steps were taken toward the selection of a Reunion Chairman, the Reunion Committee, and the formation of a program.

Plans for the day will follow those outlined last year by Stanley T. Wallbank, last year's Reunion chairman, which alumni have considered an unusually successful gathering.

The Norlin medal, to go annually at Reunion time, to a graduate of the University of outstanding achievement, will again be presented. Last year it was won by Dr. Harry Curtis, then of Yale University. Selection of this year's recipient will be in the hands of a special committee.

The Reunion banquet, which last year ended a day of enjoyment, will be the big feature of Reunion. Elaborate planning may be expected to be given this affair.

CLASS OF 1894

Other pleasurable features of last year's gathering will be included in this year's program when possible, and a few additions in the program will be made. The Executive Committee will meet May 9 to consider the Reunion program again.

The class of 1906 will be the honor class at this year's Reunion, inasmuch as this year is its twenty-fifth anniversary.

Somewhat less than 1,000 graduates of the U. C., exclusive of this year's graduating class, comprised the membership of the nine older reunion groups at the time of their graduation. Attendance last year, from a list of about the same size, was excellent, and this year's attendance may be expected to be somewhat larger. The attendance of any graduate or former student, no matter what his class, is welcomed.

One of the most enjoyable features of Reunion is the return of graduates of many years ago, and in this connection, the Alumnus presents in this issue pictures of the four earliest classes to reunite this year, and the membership list of those classes at the time of graduation.

1931 Reunion Classes

1894, 1895, 1896, 1897
1906
1913, 1914, 1915, 1916
1931

The pictures are from the original photographs of the classes, now in possession of A. A. Paddock, '10.

The class rolls of the classes of 1894, 1895, 1896, and 1897, follow:

Class of 1894

ARTS

Frederick William Burger, Lucia Gary Driggs, Curtis I. Andrew, Francis Shanor Kinder, Grant Pitzer, Alwyn Charles Smith, Frank Clarence Spencer, William Bell Stoddard, Maude Clark Gardiner, William Edward McIntosh.

GRADUATE

Susan May Andrews.

MEDICINE

Clara Selter Bryant, Alpha Manly Chase, Leonard Hamilton Clark, Catherine Phoebe Hayden, Sarah Fearing.

Alexander Hunter, Zenas Howard McClanahan, E. Melville McPherson, Jame Thomason Muir, J. M. Hally, Asa Harvey, Vivian Russell Pennock.

LAW

David Elwood Fryer, Franklin John Green, Norton Munger Montgomery, Albert Augustus Reed, G. R. Brown.

Guy Sternberg, Bethuel Matthew Webster, Milton Ray Welch, Jeanette B. Dunham, E. C. Howe, W. B. Lock, J. D. Merwin.

GROSS MEDICAL SCHOOL

Hattie Bedortha, Arthur Edgar Bonesteel, Herbert Carroll Deane, Thomas Eroyl Evans, Idola R. Exline.

A. J. Hensel, James Hopkins, Oscar Huffman, Eugene Mathewson, Samuel Herman Meuer, Frederick K. Noblet.

James D. Nicholson, William H. Rothwell, Pemberton T. Rucker, Chauncey E. Tennant, E. Mildred Whitstone, Charles Wright.

Class of 1895

ARTS

Conrad Bluhm, Louise Chase, Daisy Davis, Anna Millicent Driggs, William Franklin Bybee.

Lewis Gaylord, Frederick Charles Heppenheimer, Harry Phillips Layton, Harry Lorraine McGinnis, Frank Yandell Moseley, Florence Wilder, Myrtle Drinnie Ziemer.

GRADUATE

George Clark, Frederick Ferdinand Kramer, Timothy William Stanton, Curtis Irving Andrews.

MEDICINE

Annie Jemima Clements, Benjamin Franklin Cummings, Edward Delehanty, Mary Louise Gardiner, John Franklin Jones, V. A. Bles, M. H. Gardiner, A. J. Loustano.

William Campbell MacDonald, William Alexander Moore, Horace Grant Sigman.

LAW

James Nexbitt Hamill, Edwin John Ingram, Francis Samuel Luethi, Grant Mordestus Marsh, Erwin Louis Regennitter, George Francis Wales.

GROSS SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Anton Anderson, Clarence Robert Arnold, John Thomas Beatty, John Eddowes Beebe.

Francis M. Collier, William Cornelius Couch, Oriele Curtis, Arthur Lucius Davis, Charles Samuel Elder, Ernest Green, Alexander Cheney, Joseph D. Coyle, Frank A.

CLASS OF 1895

CLASS OF 1896

Disney, Thomas J. Stiver.

James Green, Elizabeth Reiff Harkins, James E. Johnson, William Francis Lay, Oliver B. Lewis.

John W. McDaniel, Anna S. Morgonovsky,, Samuel Gibson Mugrage, Daniel Stephen Neuman, Josephine Lyford Peavey.

John Richten, Alva H. Sawins, Orlando Shippey, Saling Simon, Dexter Havens Smith.

John W. Smith, Arthur George Taylor, Rollin Lester Thorpe, John Wash Williams, Sarah Emeline Calvert.

Class of 1896

ARTS

Henry Oresta Andrew, Ernest Robb Bliss, William Henry Burger, Theodore Taylor Chave, Thyrza Cohen, Edward Lyman Eustis.

May Ridding Fuller, Elizabeth Gamble, Charles Henry Christopher Miller, Ernest Morris, James Hixon Van Sickle.

MEDICINE

Charles Joseph Alger, Walter Scott Chapman, John Welbie Cline, George David Cummings, Alfred Irvin Hayes.

Mary Kavenym, Mary Alice Lake, David William Medill, Leonidas Bone Roberts, Martin Arthur Robison, Albert Matthew Wigglesworth, Selden F. Herrick, J. D. Pullman.

LAW

William Bailey, John Theodore Jacobs, Patrick Monahan, Clark Asahel Nichols, William Brayton Ogden, Charles Curtis Woolf, Patrick Carney.

GROSS SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Leo B. Auerbach, Samuel Bell, William S. Brown, Edwin Condit, William Albert Cundy, Francis B. Ambler, F. B. Bull, H. R. Burns.

Robert H. Denney, Flora May Taylor Kindig, Walter J. Le Rossignol, Anders Lof, Daniel R. Lucy, Robert G. Blow.

Edmund K. Macomber, Adolph J. Osterman, Wilbur Elmer Rammell, Edgar I. Raymond, David W. Reed.

Eva A. Reed, Joseph P. Roberts, Henry George Rose, Ezra Arlington Stuart, Charles Ward Thorp.

Gerald B. Webb, Edward A. Whitmore, Aubrey H. Williams, Thurza Wintermeyer, John G. Wintermeyer.

Class of 1897

ARTS

Edna Jeanette Bailey, Nan Katherine Brown, Edith Lancaster Coan, Merritt Julius Crandall, Albert Dakan, Addie Agatha Kendrick.

Charles H. Easley, Charlotte Joy Farnsworth, Lula Hankins, Earl Wheldon Haskins, Mina Hocking, Carl Hiram Paddock.

Edgar Kesner, Emma Gertrude Leake, Jessie Georgia Neikirk, Sue Graeme Shotwell, Edith Weymouth.

Jennie Frances Wise, Henrietta Martina Zollinger.

GRADUATE

Mary Dransfield.

MEDICINE

Arthur Louis Barton, Albert Leonard Bennett, Sara Smyther Connacher, Louis Noel Depeyre, Alice Bell Guthrie.

Sara Hosford Lewark, John Anderson Jones, Earl Duane McGill, James Graham Maxwell, Elsie Reed Mitchell, E. C. Baldwin.

Clara Marion Moore, George Gilbert O'Brien, May Balfour Roberts, Mtt Russell Roots, Daniel W. Sheldon, John A. Farnsworth.

Oscar Leonidas Telling, William Henry Vose, Charles David Weaver, John Andrew Weaver, Henry Williams Wilcox.

LAW

Welbore Stewart Burnett, Joseph Imbrie Coddington, Henry Patrick Gamble, James McGinnis, Claude Melnotte Taussig.

Gilbert Almarion Walker, Walter Evans White, William H. Pease, David Parsons Wilder.

ENGINEERING

Frederick William Whiteside, John Henry Stahl, Franklin Porter Wood, John Phillips Fox.

GROSS SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Adeline K. Bliven, Jennie Simmons Bowen, Clarence E. Bulette, John A. Cohen, Edward F. Dean.

Lenora B. Hamley, Henry Harrison Harvey, Arthur J. Holmquist, Edward H. Katterhenry, Emma Jane Keen.

Ellen Martin Keene, James R. Mahon, Mrs. Alice Tucker Moore, Henry H. Nast, Lucretia Nelson.

Edmund F. Noyes, Sumner Payne, Anna Marshall Rae, Moses Sahud, Marion F. Setters.

George William Sims, Warren Woodruff, Ira Richard Woodward, Sherman T. Brown, Norman Lee Harris.

The December, 1930, Bulletin of L'Institut Francais De Washington publishes in French the document which was recently translated by Prof. Eugene C. Barker of the University of Texas and Prof. Erwin F. Meyer of the history department of the University of Colorado. The document, relating to the colonization of Louisiana, was found in the Denver Public library in a collection given that institution in 1893 by Edward J. Berthoud, one of the first civil engineers of Colorado. Prof. Edwin Place and Dr. Hochdoerfer of the University of Colorado department of Romance Languages assisted the translators.

CLASS OF 1897

Dean Rogers' Work

(Continued from Page 2)

of arts school work to a three-year requirement.

The Rocky Mountain Law Review, which is published in November, February, April and June, has taken its place in the field of law review, according to Lawrence W. DeMuth, instructor in law.

Of the 78 laws reviews published in the United States, the Rocky Mountain Law Review has gained recognition because it has confined itself principally to legal problems of the Rocky Mountain states.

The first volume printed was rated by the Board of Editors of the Harvard Law Review as one of the five best along with the Yale Law Journal, the Michigan Law Review, the Cornell Law Quarterly and the California Law Review.

The policy of the Review, DeMuth said, led it into the field of irrigation, and the articles published extended the demand for copies into practically every country in the world.

A SUBSTANTIAL CIRCULATION

Since contributions come to the Review from members of law faculties in all the Rocky Mountain states, a substantial circulation has been built up.

From the standpoint of legal problems arising out of the Boulder Dam situation, DeMuth said, the Rocky Mountain Law Review led the country. There was a large demand for this number from all the government departments interested in the Boulder dam.

The graduate School of Law begun by Dean Rogers has been in operation three years. It has been developed along a new theory of teaching, and is regarded by the legal profession as one of the most interesting experiments along this line. It combines theoretical with practical considerations.

So far the courses have been developed along two major fields, one the specialized and advanced phases of corporation law, and the other the history and theories of law.

The students in the graduate school have undertaken specific projects for various organizations. One is the "Annotation and Restatement of Contract Law as Prepared by the American Law Institute." Another is a study in the law of newspapers for the Colorado Press Association. These two projects are in progress.

A study in comparative law of statutes and limitations has been finished for the retail credit men.

Last year the faculty of the Law School, under the leadership of Dean Rogers voted to recommend to the Board of Regents of the University that the requirements for entrance into the Law School be raised from two years of Arts School work to three years, and this year the Regents accepted the recommendation. This requirement goes into effect September 1, 1932.

Three Tendencies

Tracing the history of the lawyer, Dean James Grafton Rogers, of the University of Colorado School of Law, in the January bulletin of the New York State Bar Association, forecasts three tendencies in the profession. The lawyer is needing steadily broader and deeper education, and he is going to get it, he predicts; the lawyer is committed now to real professional organization; and the field of the lawyer is expanding into realms of thought and intellectual effort which are the most searching and stimulating in the modern world.

Commenting on his portrait of the American lawyer, the New York Times of Jan. 15 says in part:

"Nearly fifty years ago James Bryce thought that both the political influence and the social position of the American bar had declined. Dean Rogers expresses the same opinion. The rise of other learned professions and the enlarged moment of business were among Bryce's reasons for this loss of prestige. The growth of leisure and opportunities for cultivation is another reason of later effect. It is somewhat surprising, however, to find the Dean speaking of 'the withdrawal of the lawyer from public life.' In Bryce's time lawyers were the most numerous class in Congress and the state legislatures. We were not aware that this had ceased to be the contemporary fact."

Summarizing outstanding changes under way in the American lawyer's life, Dean Rogers writes:

"There are about fifty thousand law students in American law schools today, or one man for every three already in the profession. In forty years the number of American law schools has tripled, and the enrollment has been multiplied by ten. . . . The consequence of the increase will be severe competition, low average earnings, emphasis on professional and ethical defalcations, and the excursion of many into other fields of livelihood.

"The educational level of the profession is rising. Eighteen schools now require three or more years of college arts work before beginning the study of law. . . . There is an immense enlargement of the field of legal materials and study. Administrative law, international law, sociology, business, accounting, finance, and even legal history are coming within the boundaries of the lawyer's field.

"Most observers agree that the legal profession in America has been losing prestige since the Civil War. This, a product of various factors: the increase of other learned professions, the withdrawal of the lawyer from public life, the emphasis on the business career which dominates all the modern world. If other classes with as much detachment as the lawyer from purely personal viewpoints, with deeper education, more surface polish and as much expertness in public affairs, enter the arena, the lawyer eclipse will continue. Social prestige is partly a matter of manners and partly of public usefulness."

Malvern Festival

The Malvern Festival, portraying five centuries of English drama, and dedicated to George Bernard Shaw, will be given at Malvern, England, again this year, according to a recent announcement of the United States Lines. The dates this year are the first three weeks of August.

Among the plays to be presented are "Hick Scorner," author unknown; "Ralph Roister Doister," by Nicholas Udall; "The Woman Killed with Kindness," by Heywood; "She Would If She Could," by Etherege; "A Trip to Scarborough," by Sheridan, and perhaps a new plan by George Bernard Shaw.

In addition to the plays, a series of lectures on the drama will be given.

U. of C. graduates who are interested may obtain more complete information from the Malvern Festival Bureau, 45 Broadway, New York, with which the United States Lines is connected.

Lemuel T. Cook is superintendent of schools at Sherman, Tex. He gave a summary of his thesis for a master's degree which he received in 1930 at a meeting of the Paiduan club at Dallas.

Wilkinsburg Dinner

DEAN HERBERT S. EVANS of the University of Colorado Engineering school was the guest of honor at a dinner given by alumni in Wilkinsburg, Pa., March 11. Dean Evans had gone to Pittsburgh to attend a district convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and a national board meeting. He is vice president of the district which includes Colorado. A visit to the Westinghouse Electrical Manufacturing company in East Pittsburgh and other companies where some of the alumni are employed was a part of his enjoyable trip.

Twenty-nine alumni were present at the dinner. Members from classes of 26 years ago were present.

"The meeting was very pleasant and interesting," Dean Evans said. "I found the boys happy and contented."

Those present at the dinner were: William H. Neill and C. M. Bolten, A.B., '04; A. C. Streamer, '07; A. P. Sunnergren, '10; P. H. Brace, '13; Lesley C. Paul, '15; L. G. Lehman and A. Encson, '22; R. V. Ross, O. S. Williams, P. R. Oldenburg and R. E. Caywood, '23; C. A. Stone, E. N. Fabrizio and W. G. McCanne, '24; A. A. Moline, W. T. Crosman, V. E. Bears and A. J. Danni, '25; J. P. Minici, '27; H. F. Hanson, H. R. Vaughan, E. R. Whitehead and W. R. Roman, '28; W. E. Chambers, Henry A. Matis and A. M. Unger, '29; A. E. Franks and R. J. Coffey, '30.

The Open Road

Therese Stengel, instructor in the department of Germanic Languages at the University of Colorado, will lead this year's group of the International Open Road tourists from this University. She is to be assisted by Marion Clark, senior, who has been elected student leader for the tour, which leaves New York on July 7.

It is expected that ten Colorado University women will join the tour, which is to visit Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Germany, France and England in the two months' time at its disposal.

C. N. Kennon has been superintendent of the Girard, Tex., schools for seven years. He received his M.A. degree in 1930, and will work on his doctor's degree at Columbia University.

Knowles Re-elected

ROBERT R. "BUD" KNOWLES, hard-working and efficient president of the Associated Alumni, University of Colorado, was re-elected to office by members of the Executive Committee of the association, April 3, at a meeting of the committee held in Boulder at the home of Mrs. Portia Olwin Woodbury.

Mrs. Virginia Hardin Stearns was elected vice-president, succeeding Frank H. Prouty. Prof. Ralph L. Crosman was selected to serve as executive secretary.

The committee, besides the officers elected, is composed of Prouty, Elizabeth Sparhawk, Judge Claude C. Coffin and Mrs. Woodbury.

President Knowles' re-election was on the motion of retiring Vice-President Prouty. Judge Coffin put the question, and a unanimous vote was cast for him. Judge Coffin nominated Mrs. Stearns, and her election was unanimous.

The officers elected will serve until their successors are chosen by the new executive committee to be elected next fall.

Adjournment was taken until May 9, when the committee will meet in Denver, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Prouty, 2801 Ash street.

Mrs. Prouty attended the meeting. All officers and committee members were present with the exception of Miss Sparhawk.

European Trip

Mrs. Rosetta B. Wolcott, assistant professor of Romance Languages, and her daughter, Evelyn, assistant in biology and a graduate student, are organizing a party for a trip to Europe this summer. The trip will be under the management of the American Express Company and the Cunard-Anchor lines.

The tour will start June 19 and last until August 17. France, the Riviera, Italy, the Alps, Germany and the Rhineland, The Netherlands, Belgium and England will be visited.

Mrs. Wolcott and Mrs. Irvin Gilbert led a tour to Europe last summer.

John M. Meikle, member of the University class of 1910, has been appointed district attorney for the fourth judicial district of Colorado. He was deputy district attorney under John C. Young, who was elected tc the district judgeship in November.

Pittsburgh Dinner

From ALBERT ERICSON
Secretary-Treasurer, Pittsburgh Alumni

THE Pittsburgh Alumni club of the University of Colorado Alumni Association held a dinner dance, Jan. 10, at the Penn-Lincoln hotel in Wilkinsburg.

The dinner hour was interspersed with instrumental music played by a five-piece orchestra. As old familiar tunes were played the dinner guests joined in vocal accompaniment. The greater part of the evening was spent in dancing. "Paul Jones" and tag dances helped the merrymakers to get acquainted.

Forty-three were present. Among this group there were two graduates of the Law School and one of the College of Arts and Sciences. The other men had received their degrees from the College of Engineering.

The program was an eight-page folder in silver and gold paper tied with ribbons of the same color. The cover contained a reproduction of a snapshot of the Flatirons.

Officers of the chapter are E. N. Fabrizio, '24, president; W. G. McCanne, '25, vice president, and Albert Ericson, secretary-treasurer. The committee consisted of W. E. Chambers, J. P. Minici and A. J. Danni.

Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Allison, '27; Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Bears, '25; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moline, 25; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Murray, '21; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Paul, '15; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Robertson, '16; Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Unger, '13; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ward, '29, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCann, law, '24.

Hal G. Chapman, law '24; L. C. Springer, B.A. '29.

R. C. Caywood, '23; V. E. Chambers, '29; Ralph Coffey, '29; C. A. Dana, '30; A. J. Danni, '25; E. Fabrizio, '24; A. E. Franks, '30; J. P. Minici, '27; W. G. McCanne, '25; W. G. Romans, '28; O. S. Williams, '23, and H. R. Vaughn, '28.

Walter B. Sandusky is enjoying his third year in San Diego, Calif., as manager of Woolworth's. He says he has not seen anyone from Colorado for a coon's age, so has to spend his time in consoling friends from Washington State.

Miss Dorothy Quine is teaching oral English and dramatics in the Canon City Senior high school.

Company B and Troop D

IN recognition of the World War services of many University of Colorado men, the rosters of the two National Guard units organized at Boulder shortly before the outbreak of the conflict are presented herewith. They are taken from the records of Col. Paul P. Newlon, Adjustant General of the Colorado National Guard, and give the personnel of the two units as of the summer of 1916.

The two organizations were Company B, Corps of Engineers, and Troop D, First Cavalry.

Troop D was commanded by Capt. H. C. Washburn, now Colonel of Infantry, Reserve Corps, and Dean of the U. C. College of Pharmacy. Donold J. Myers was First Lieutenant; Harry A. Curtis was Second Lieutenant, and Gerry Chapman was First Sergeant.

Company B was commanded by Capt. Ivan C. Crawford, now Lieutenant Colonel in the Engineering Reserve, and Dean of the College of Engineering, University of Idaho, Moscow. Prof. Clarence L. Eckel was Senior First Lieutenant, Carl Shimeall, Junior First Lieutenant, and W. W. Rust, Second Lieutenant.

These two organizations furnished a remarkable number of officers to United States fighting forces as U. S. participation in the war progressed. Fifty-four men who served with Troop D won commissions, and 50 per cent or more of the men who served with Company B won commissions for themselves.

Both Company B and Troop D were a part of the Fortieth Division, and both went to France about the same time—the summer of 1918. Both trained at Camp Kearney, Calif. Troop D became the 157th Infantry, and Company B the 115th Engineers.

ROSTER OF COMPANY B, CORPS OF ENGINEERS, COLORADO NATIONAL GUARD.

1. Brubaker, William F.
2. Buckley, John H.
3. Crawford, Ivan C.
4. Creglow, Frederick D.
5. Curtis, Howard G.
6. Devenish, George B.
7. Dungan, Paul W.
8. Eastman, Paul W.
9. Eckel, Clarence L.
10. Eschenburg, Herman
11. Foster, Bryant
12. Gillett, Clarence H.
13. Greene, John F.
14. Mallory, Walter F.
15. Mattheissen, Fredk. W.
16. Merritt, Robert W.
17. Moyle, Matthew W.
18. McCoy, Lewis
19. Nelson, Raymond
20. Parr, Elza W.
21. Patterson, Stanley
22. Bader, Cranston B.
23. Reid, Hugh A.
24. Richardson, George
25. Rusk, Willard W.
26. Rymer, Donald H.
27. Shattuck, Lucien H.
28. Sherrill, Marcus
29. Shimeall, Karl W.
30. Spier, Joseph E.
31. Steinmetz, William J.
32. Strauss, Herman G.
33. Tandy, Ben G.
34. Warner, Arthur
35. White, Kenneth I.
36. Wood, Carl
37. Apel, Philip C.
38. Billington, Ronald V.
39. Fertig, John L.
40. Harvey, Eugene C.
41. Kraxberger, Ernest F.
42. Kurtz, Guy O.
43. McCrum, Douglas S.
44. Nims, Cloyse C.
45. Pearce, William R.
46. Phelps, Colin E.
47. Scherer, Edward H.
48. Schloss, Charles M.
49. Shimeall, Herbert R.
50. Stribling, George E.
51. Thorpe, John C.
52. Tipton, Royce J.
53. Brockway, Waldo E.
54. Hinkle, Allen E.
55. Holm, Alvin John
56. Perreton, Arnold E.
57. Barnes, Leroy A.
58. Beckett, Rexford E.
59. Bloom, Edward L.
60. Bullock, William
61. Davenport, Niel E.
62. Fitzell, Grant R.
63. George, Wesley
64. Gilleece, Henry C.
65. Harris, John B.
66. Hart, Herman W.
67. Hartman, William Bart
68. Heers, Arthur B.
69. Jennings, John T.
70. Jones, Charles D.
71. Kime, Herbert R.
72. Knight, George
73. Leith, William B.
74. Mathias, Henry
75. McMasters, Clarence L.
76. Pansick, Andrew H.
77. Pederson, Herbert A.
78. Peltier, David J.
79. Phillips, Harry J.
80. Rigby, John H.
81. Philp, George H.
82. Ruggles, Lloyd C.
83. Stenstrom, Charles E.
84. Vanderveen, Clarence B.
85. Williams, Harry R.
86. Williams, John G.
87. Wright, William T.
88. Fleming, Richard T.

ROSTER OF TROOP D, 1ST CAVALRY COLORADO NATIONAL GUARD

1. Washburn, Homer C.
2. Myers, Donald J.
3. Curtis, Harry A.
4. Chapman, Gerry
5. Poe, Charles F.
6. Klemme, Claude C.
7. Perkins, Lewis M.
8. Brandhorst, Henry W.
9. Hagen, Fred C.
10. Unfug, August F.
11. Smith, Feay B.
12. West, Frank C.
13. Duggan, Frederick F.
14. Evans, Edwin V.
15. Welles, Charles H.
16. Lundberg, William O.
17. Jordan, Parker P.
18. Haughey, Leon C.
19. Herrick, David B.
20. Farrell, Clyde W.
21. Ardourel, Alphonse
22. Barr, Edgar W.
23. Abell, Wendell E.
24. Allen, Joe
25. Anderson, Herman A.
26. Annin, William E.
27. Atherton, Gordon A.
28. Banta, Clifford
29. Barnes, Fred F.
30. Bennett, Chauncey A.
31. Berg, Frank A.
32. Campbell, Carl J.
33. Canfield, Paul M.
34. Catterson, Frelin H.
35. Chase, David
36. Chilson, LeRoy
37. Crotts, Frank M.
83. Davis, Monnett B.
39. Devlin, Frank J.
40. Dobler, Will C.
41. Feasel, Fred
42. Finlayson, James A.
43. Grandjean, Horton J.
44. Henderson, Samuel B.
45. Herrick, Myron C.
46. Ickes, Ernest C.
47. Hoy, George W.
48. Ickes, Roscoe
49. Isenberg, Edward H.
50. Johnson, Raymond C.
51. Kitchen, Ford
52. Knowles, Sam E.
53. Maas, Emil A.
54. McCrae, Arthur L.
55. Miller, Glen C.
56. Moule, Albert A.
57. Nairn, John M.
58. Nims, Valiant
59. Post, Charles W.
60. Powers, Edward
61. Sanborn, Frederick W.
62. Sayre, Leland S.
63. Sharitz, Paul C.
64. Smith, Irving S.
65. Spier, James E.
66. Stevens, Fred
67. Taylor, Edward E.
68. Vaughn, Jack W.
69. Weaver, Carl F.
70. Wendell, Lay A.
71. Barger, Ray M.
72. Brown, Robert E.
73. Chalmers, Wright E.
74. Clark, Carl
75. Grady, Clifford H.
76. Greene, Harold T.
77. Lyon, Francis M.
78. Maas, Louis G.
79. Schlupp, Nicholas A.
80. Spence, Otto
81. Wells, Horace P.
82. Wiley, Mark H.
83. Wright, Kelly
84. Bromley, Charles D.
85. Mellors, Tom
86. Ross, Charles M.
87. Strange, John K.

(Continued on Page 10)

Proposed Fee Increase Is Defeated

Colorado Senate Votes Down a Resolution to Boost Non-Resident Tuition at State Schools

AN attempt to force the University of Colorado and all other educational institutions in the state of Colorado to increase their tuition fees for non-resident students to the actual cost of their tuition, thus depriving the institutions of perhaps all such students, was defeated in the state Senate March 12. The vote was 24 to 4.

The resolution providing for such a move was introduced by Senator Charles F. Rumbaugh, Pagosa Springs.

The fight against the proposal was ably led by Boulder County's senator, Theo. G. Lashley. In his argument before the senate, he declared, among other points, that the proposal would cripple the universities and colleges, would counteract all that has been undertaken recently by the Colorado Association to build up the state, and might invite reciprocal action against Colorado students who go to other state universities for their education.

Information showing that the University of Colorado's non-resident fee was much higher at present than the non-resident fee of universities in other mountain states was presented to members of the senate.

It was Senator Rumbaugh's contention, according to newspaper reports, that his resolution would cut down the number of students at the state institutions sufficiently to do away with their need for new buildings and increased revenue for operation.

The Rocky Mountain News came out editorially against the resolution, and on the morning of the day on which the resolution was voted down, carried the following statement:

"Colorado wants new people to come here. Colorado is what it is largely as a result of new blood. And many of Colorado's infusions of new blood have come from the state university.

"Today the senate will consider a resolution by Senator Rumbaugh of Pagosa Springs which would stop these infusions and would defeat one of the principal objectives of the state at this time, which is to bring new citizens.

"Senator Rumbaugh's resolution would increase the tuition fees for non-resident students at Colorado educational institutions to a prohibitive sum.

"As things now stand, non-resident students in the college of arts and sciences at the University of Colorado pay twice as much for their tuition as do resident students. And the tuition fees for non-resident students are considerably higher than those charged by other educational institutions of a similar character.

"But Colorado cannot afford to place an embargo on non-resident students —in other words, Colorado cannot afford to shut off the flow of new blood.

"In the first place, Colorado's educational institutions should not be permitted to become provincial.

"The present system of charges has had the effect of limiting the number of non-resident students in the Colorado educational institutions to approximately 15 per cent of the total. This is a healthy number. It means that Colorado's institutions draw students from all the world—as they would not do if the fees were increased out of proportion to those charged by other institutions.

"The existing non-resident fees are all the traffic will bear.

"Colorado has been built, and can continue to be built, by attracting additional residents.

"Many—probably most—of the non-resident students who now attend the state's educational institutions ultimately become permanent residents.

"The Rumbaugh resolution, if adopted, would have the effect of keeping away from Colorado the most desirable sort of new citizens."

The resolution was the second having to do with the University of Colorado which has been introduced in the state Senate by Senator Rumbaugh. The first one called for an exhaustive amount of information for the years 1924-25 and 1929-30, on the U. C., the U. C. Medical School, the State Hospital, and the Colorado Psychopathic Hospital. The resolution called for information such as the complete faculty list, the amount of salaries paid in summer and in winter, the number of classes taught, the average number of students in each class, and miscellaneous information concerning regular sources of income, concerning the University's practice in granting leaves of absence, etc., for the two periods named.

The information had been requested of President George Norlin by Senator Rumbaugh, and President Norlin's refusal to answer in detail was in turn answered by the introduction of the resolution.

The University took the stand, in its refusal to comply with Senator Rumbaugh's request, that no individual could submit an exhaustive questionnaire to a state board or institution. President Norlin, in a statement concerning the matter declared he had refused "the personal demand of Senator Rumbaugh for elaborate and detailed information regarding the University," because the institution makes elaborate public reports each biennium to the governor, the general assembly, and the budget commissioner, and further that it should be clear that no individual can reasonably demand of a public institution the expenditure of so much time and money for his own purposes.

When it came before the senate, the resolution was fought on these grounds by Senator Lashley, and it was declared further that the information desired was not pertinent to the matters before the legislature.

The proposal was referred to the Senate Committee on Education and Educational Institutions, of which Senator Lashley is chairman. In its stead, the Committee compiled a set of more pertinent questions, which have been answered by the U. of C.

Denver Alumni

Denver alumni of the University have interested themselves in University affairs as they appear in the legislature. A dinner-meeting of several alumni was held March 19, at the University Club, for the purpose of considering ways and means to aid the institution. Senators Lashley and Joe Martinez, the latter a C. U. graduate of '24, and Professor Ralph L. Crosman, executive secretary of the Associated Alumni, were present.

Clarence L. Ireland, C. U. '16, Attorney General of the state, presided. Prof. Crosman outlined the legislative situation, and the evening was spent in discussing it. Further meetings were planned.

The Denver alumni present were: Charles J. Kelly, '25; Stanley T. Wallbank, '17 and '18; Frank H. Prouty, '15; Harry Zimmerhackel, '07 and '09; David Rosner, '23; Harold H. Healy, '11; Dr. Harold G. Garwood, '00; Dr. James Philpott, '12, and Rodney Puffer, '14.

Rudolph Johnson, '13 and '15, the only graduate of the University in the House, but one of that body's ablest members, could not attend the dinner because of a previous engagement.

Representative Johnson has worked unceasingly, ever since the start of the present legislative session, in the interest of the bill providing $300,000 for the erection of wings to the Liberal Arts building at the University. He not only has worked for the bill, but is interesting himself in the problem of providing revenue which will make funds available for the appropriation bill.

Two U. C. graduates are members of the Senate, Lee Knous, '11, Montrose, and Joe Martinez, '24, Trinidad. They as well as Representative Johnson, are interested in the University's welfare, and are among the abler members of the Assembly.

All three are authors or co-authors of many bills of significance.

Representative Johnson is co-author of H. B. No. 190, providing for a redistribution of the gasoline tax among the counties of the state; of Concurrent Resolution No. 17, providing for a call for a constitutional convention for the state; of H. B. No. 375, authorizing the organization of local districts, either rural or municipal, for the construction and operation of electric light plants; and is author of the following: H. B. No. 240, providing for an income tax; of H. B. No. 81, providing for removal of heads of state departments from jurisdiction of the civil service. The terms of this bill have since been incorporated in House Resolution No. 23, in which Representatives Rogers and Aspinall have joined as co-authors.

Senator Martinez has introduced or joined in the introduction of several bills in the Senate. Among them are S. B. No. 91, to abolish the present Board of Corrections and to create a new one; of S. B. No. 464, to abolish the Colorado Tax Commission, and to transfer to and to confer upon the State Board of Equalization all the powers, duties and privileges of that commission, and of S. B. No. 574, creating a State Board of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Senator Knous likewise is the author or co-author of several measures. One, S. B. No. 5, is a bill for an act concerning water users association formed to acquire reclamation projects constructed by the United States. Another, S. B. No. 64, would amend certain provisions of the present act establishing a Colorado National Guard.

Senator Lashley, while not a graduate of the University, is a leading member of the Senate. He has introduced many bills, most of them dealing with banking matters. One is S. B. No. 21, the bill setting a new definition of bank robbery, and providing penalties for the crime. Still another, S. B. No. 22, would provide a bank collection code.

Troop D

(Continued from Page 8)

88. Augustus, Lossie H.
89. Borgstrand, Barnett
90. Cooper, Rolla K.
91. Friedman, Albert O.
92. Friedman, Arthur F.
93. Friedman, Frank H.
94. Githens, Frank
95. Goodro, Charles P.
96. Goodro, Fred M.
97. Goodro, Millard G.
98. Hendricks, John M.
99. Johnson, George L.
100. McDonough, John B.
101. Mears, Thomas J.
102. Perkins, David G.
103. Simpson, Joseph Henry
104. Smith, Charles A.
105. Soens, Adolph L.
106. White, Norman R.
107. Yerian, Albert G.
108. Young, Earl J.
109. Bowman, William E.
110. Ewing, James E.
111. Folsom, Fred G.
112. Green, Charles A. P.
113. McCallister, George B.
114. Peterson, Oscar
115. Reed, Falcon C.
116. Soderquist, Ernest G.
117. Shields, Walter C.
118. Tracy, Charles A.
119. Vangieson, Leo.
120. Wall, George Claire
121. Ziegler, Robert A.
122. Babcock, Paul E.
123. Grady, Robert L.
124. Lindemann, Raymond
125. Hoskins, Gordon
126. Lightbourn, Willis B.
127. Casey, James W.
128. Chapman, Edward A.
129. Seeley, Willis R.
130. Yuske, George
131. Burge, Edgar
132. Mercoglirnr, John
133. Gustafson, Win L.
134. Hoshaw, Alley
135. Irons, Harry C.
136. Johnson, Raymond C.
137. Malish, Frank
138. Nicholson, William J.
139. Olander, Edward W.
140. Parsons, Watt R.
141. Payton, Gillroy
142. Savoy, Harry C.
143. Gordon, Robert G.
144. Wilson, Horner
145. Cline, James C.
146. Lisston, Robert J.
147. Forrest, Charles M.

L.G.BALFOUR
COMPANY
The Official Fraternity
JEWELER
Mail Orders Receive Prompt Attention
314 Denver Theatre Building
Telephone KEystone 4725
Denver, Colorado

G. H.
HUNTINGTON
ARCHITECT
BOULDER, COLORADO
Architect for
Pi Beta Phi House
Chi Omega House
Alpha Phi House
Delta Zeta House
Alpha Delta Pi House
Alpha Omicron Pi House
Phi Kappa Tau House
Beta Theta Pi House
Delta Sigma Phi House
Delta Gamma Addition
(Fraternity Homes on other campuses also)

SEND YOUR
LEGAL NOTICES
TO THE DAILY
JOURNAL
301-2 Kittredge Building
Telephone KEystone 4969
JAMES E. GAULE, HERBERT FAIRALL
Publishers

The Brown Derby

After fifteen years of usage, the historical and battered "Brown Derby" of the School of Law, which was last worn by Charles Keen, has been mounted in a glass cage in the Law library.

The new "brown derby," which actually is green with purple ribbons, was placed in circulation last month. Robert Lackey was the first law freshman to receive the honor of wearing it. Muriel McGregor, one of the two freshman women law students, wore the derby next.

Seven men have worn the old brown derby this year: Sidney Pleasant, class president; Melville Lindquist, Robert Schwartz, Don Wertz, John Lockley, Dave Conolly, Charles Keen, and Raymond Coffman.

The "dummy hat" changes heads every week. The award is made from a vote of the class, which determines the "dumbest" remark for the week. Although the old derby appears to be an ink spot, it is only the innumerable signatures which darken it. Upon the hat are found such names as Beise, Rames, Healy, McGlone, Holt, and even a young lady, Gweneth Winters.

The "Brown Derby" became a tradition among the lawyers about fifteen years ago when Dr. Livingston Farrand was president of the University. At one of the regular assemblies all of the freshman lawyers filed into the hall wearing brown derbies. However, instead of stopping at his seat, one man with an exceptionally small head walked up onto the platform and placed his little derby on the large head of the president. Since this incident, it has been customary for freshman law students who make the "dumbest cracks" to wear the "Brown Derby."

Several years ago the precious token was stolen by the engineers. After keeping the lawyers wondering for six months or so as to the whereabouts of the derby, it was returned unharmed.

Meyer at Pueblo

Dr. Erwin F. Meyer, assistant professor of History, will speak at Pueblo April 23, and at Rocky Ford April 24 on "English and Anglo-American Relations."

Dr. Meyer addressed the Southwestern Political and Social Science association, meeting at Oklahoma City, on April 3, on the subject "The English Craft Guild and the Middle Ages."

Track Prospects Are Good

WITH A RECORD number of brilliant freshman prospects out for practice to bolster a veteran track team that took second place in the Rocky Mountain conference meet last year, the University of Colorado is looking forward to the spring with eyes fixed on the championship trophy now in possession of Utah University.

Coach Frank Potts is especially optimistic, predicting that Colorado has a good chance to win the conference championship. He adds the appropriate "ifs" and "buts" that characterize a coach's prediction.

"If the freshmen are eligible, and if the veterans do as well as they did last year, the R.M.C. championship will be in the possession of Colorado after the conference meet is over in May," Coach Potts predicted.

The only lettermen lost to the 1931 team are Ray Chapman in the pole vault, Walsh in the half-mile, Moore in the hurdles, and Krutak in the weights. Potts, speaking in terms of points garnered in conference meets, places the worth of these men at five points.

Frosh Meet Encouraging

To make up for the loss of these veterans, Potts has several outstanding freshmen who, if they continue their present pace and are eligible in the spring, will undoubtedly bring many points to Colorado. First among the new men is Meridith Jamison from East Denver high school. Jamison, in a meet held by Coach Potts for his freshman track candidates, took high scoring honors with a total of 15 points. He won firsts in the high jump, broad jump and 50-yard dash. In winning the high jump event, Jamison cleared the bar at six feet, a mark that will win a first or second in any Rocky Mountain conference meet.

CAPT. HAMILTON

COACH POTTS

"Porky" Linder, yearling from Illinois, is Colorado's hope in the weights. Linder pushed the shotput 42 feet 10 inches, winning the event in the frosh meet. He has reached 45 feet in practice heaves, and is doing well in the hammer and discus throws.

James Counter, from Brighton, is the third star among the freshmen. He placed second to Jamison in the meet with 14 points, winning firsts in the two hurdle events and a second in the 35-pound weight throw.

Rouse and Ashbaugh in the distance events, Stewart and Grosvenor in the pole vault, and Ralph Haley, brother of "Slick," in the high jump, are the other promising freshmen.

Veterans Strong

John White, who recently announced his intention to return to school spring quarter, is being counted upon in the spring events.

Potts believes that without his freshmen, his team is just as strong as last year's aggregation. Newton Chatfield, star dash man and broad jumper, who was injured on the eve of the conference meet last May, is back in harness, and should experience his best year. Potts regards Chatfield as the deciding factor in the coming meets.

The mainstay of the track team is Darrell Hamilton, captain and holder of the conference record in the broad jump, as well as an almost certain place winner in the sprints.

Veterans in the 440-yard run are: Plein, last year's captain and member of the all-conference relay team; Bill Smith, Jack Van Valkenburgh, Fred Emigh and Phil Berg.

Three lettermen, Freese, Snow and Baggett, are back in the half-mile race. Henry Stark and Louis Quam are the two-milers, and Wayne Denny is back in the mile event.

Colorado is especially strong in the hurdles, with Quinlan, Robinson and Haley almost certain to run one-two-three in every meet in both the low and high hurdles. Potts regards this trio as the best in the conference.

High Jump Weak

Besides Hamilton in the broad jump, Colorado has Barnett and Chatfield, both place winners last year. Challgren and Eichenberger are back in the high jump, although neither is capable of winning points in the big meets. Potts regards the high jump as the weakest position on his team. There are no upperclassmen out for the pole vault, but Potts is relying on his freshmen, Soden, Dickover, Grosvenor, Price, Stewart and Haley, to win points in this event.

The shot and the discus have little strength if last year's performers must be counted upon to place in these events. The freshmen will be primed for both throws. Huntington, Russell, Wilson and Newton are showing steady improvement in the field events and may develop into point winners.

Fletcher Birney, conference champion in the javelin, is out to break the R.M.C. record in his specialty. In practice he has been hurling the shaft better than last year. Huntington and Railey are working out with Birney.

OTHER SPORTS

Tom Kassis, Notre Dame football star, a pupil of the late Knute Rockne, will assist Head Coach Myron Witham in drilling the U. C. football team.

Kassis was selected to succeed Line Coach Ralph Munns, who resigned to re-enter Cornell University to complete his work for an A. B. degree. He will be in charge of the C. U. line.

Hardly had Kassis, whose home is in Casper, Wyo., started his work here, when Rockne was killed in an airplane accident in Kansas. Kassis left Boulder a day or two later for South Bend to attend the funeral of his great coach. He expected to make all or a part of the trip by airplane.

Spring football practice started with the opening of the spring quarter with heightened interest, and dopesters of the conference who favor other teams in next fall's battle are eyeing C. U. askance.

* * *

Baseball, the sport for spring and summer weather, has the attention of its fans at present. Though handicapped by unexpected ineligibilities, Coach Harry Carlson may be expected to put a real ball team in the field. Some stars of last year are ineligible this year, and the task of finding able men to wear their uniforms is hard.

COACH CARLSON

Coach Carlson was hardest hit when his star pitchers were declared ineligible, yet was able to win his first game of the season, 4 to 3, from a strong School of Mines team.

Four years ago a husky freshman from Kim, Colo., came to Coach Carlson, asking to play baseball. He has been out regularly during the years in school, but it was not until Wednesday, April 1, the day C. U. and Mines met, that he got his big chance. With Saller and Sechler, last year's star pitchers, out of the game this spring, this second-string player went into the box and pitched a remarkable game. He is Paul Church.

The Miners had a 3 to 1 advantage over C. U. when C. U. went to bat in the last inning. Church had allowed only four hits and one walk during the game, had pitched steadily and coolly, but the Miners had made the most of their opportunities.

In this last inning C. U. got two walks, a single, a double, and a hard drive to center field to win the game. Roubos, a pinch-hitter, was the one who smashed center field to bring in the winning run.

* * *

The basketball championship of the Rocky Mountain conference was determined this year by one point. After losing the first game to Wyoming, eastern division contender, Utah, western division winner, came back to win the second contest, and to take the third and deciding one by a one-point margin, 40 to 39.

Wyoming took the first, 32 to 25, but lost the next, 40 to 24. Wyoming this year played a team of youngsters who unexpectedly stood the gaff of a hard schedule. The team will be intact next season. Three of Utah's quintet will graduate.

The playoff was in Salt Lake City. The championship was the first basketball championship for Utah since 1916.

The C. U. basketball team dropped out of the eastern division basketball race largely as a result of late season defeats administered by D. U. Teachers, perhaps the favorite, also dropped out, C. U. proving to be the tartar in their camp. D. U. had lost too many early season games to win out in the last lap, and Wyoming, playing steadily, took the eastern title.

The C. U. team entered the A. U. U. tournament held in Denver, but lost again to D. U. in a semi-final game. Teachers won the tournament, but lost its first game at the Kansas City national A. U. U. tourney.

* * *

The U. C. wrestling team, ably coached by Ralph Munns, won its second consecutive championship of the eastern division of the Rocky Mountain conference at the conference tournament in Boulder Feb. 20 and 21. In addition, four members of the C. U. team won individual conference championships.

C. U. scored 26 points; D. U., 18;

Wyoming, 15; Colorado Aggies, 12; C. C., 2; and Mines, 0.

Earl Rubright, heavyweight; Hammers, 155 pounds; Sechler, 145 pounds; and McBurney, 118 pounds, were the men who won individual championships.

C. U. easily led in wrestling this year. All four dual matches, preceding the conference meet, were won by one-sided scores. The closest victory was a 21 to 13 point contest with D. U.

* * *

Taking every first place, C. U. swimmers easily won the conference championship, Feb. 28, held in the Wyoming pool at Laramie. C. U. scored 67 points, Teachers 23½, and Wyoming 11½. In all events except two, C. U. took both first and second place.

The victory in the conference meet was the fifth straight one this season for Coach John Mason's team. Easy wins were scored in the dual meets held previously.

The C. U. gymnastic team won second place in the conference meet held in Greeley, Feb. 28. Colorado Aggies won the meet with 229½ points; C.U. won 218¼ points; Teachers, 199¾; and Wyoming, 192¾.

C. U. won all dual matches in which it engaged during the season. Hanawald, considered a sure point winner, broke a finger a few days before the conference meet, and was lost to the contest.

Colorado Aggies were Coach Vavra's most formidable opponents this year, the dual meet being won from them by only two points. The veteran Aggie team will be in school next year, with the exception of one man. C. U. will lose several men by graduation.

NEWS from Classes

Olive Helen Miles, Editor

1900

James Elbert Cutler, dean of the school of applied social sciences, professor of sociology at the Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio, served as chairman of the local arrangement committee for the American Sociological society which met in Cleveland Dec. 29-31, 1930. He writes that Rachel Gilbert, a 1929 graduate of the University of Colorado, is one of the 250 students doing graduate work in his school, which is one of the graduate professional schools of the University.

1902

Willard P. Hatch is teaching in the Baha'i cause and is located at 3440 Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles.

H. N. Wheeler is chief lecturer in the United States Forestry service at Washington, D. C. He lectures before professional and social clubs, university, college and chautauqua audiences and over the radio on all phases of the forestry question. His work carries him into every state in the union. He is secretary of the Sigma Nu alumni chapter at Washington.

1906

Rene B. Wright, C. R. Short and Verna McLaughlin are working for

EUROPE
at a BARGAIN
Sail on your own
OFFICIAL ALUMNI FLEET

A great year to travel abroad... 1931. Hotel rooms, food, clothing, transportation and entertainment at prices lower than any in recent years. Travel bargains start at your own United States Lines piers! Fares and room reductions clip travel costs at the start. LEVIATHAN, largest and most famous ship in the transatlantic lanes, offers amazing values in First Class. Even to suppers and entertainment without cover charge or check in the brilliant Club Leviathan, Ben Bernie dance orchestra. Pompeian swimming pool, gymnasium, electric baths, all deck games. Famous cabin ships —GEORGE WASHINGTON, AMERICA, REPUBLIC, PRESIDENT HARDING, and PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT . . . also offer the full length of refinement at exceptionally low fares. Tempting Tourist Third Cabin values and the famous new Leviathan Tourist "Grade A." For new fares, deckplans, itineraries, etc., write your alumni secretary, your local agent or

UNITED STATES LINES

Official Fleet of the Intercollegiate Alumni Associations.

New York, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Seattle, Pittsburgh, Washington, Little Rock, New Orleans, Berlin, Hamburg, London, Paris. THESE LINES OFFER A COMPLETE FREIGHT SERVICE — SPECIFY AMERICAN SHIPS FOR YOUR FOREIGN TRADE.

the United States Bureau of Public Roads in the district office in Portland, Ore. Miss McLaughlin is stenographer, Short is locating and resident engineer on forest roads, and Wright is senior highway bridge engineer. He writes "The three of us always enjoy each issue of Alumnus and with other U. of C. people in the Pacific Northwest look forward to seeing our old school's football team in action here next fall."

Dr. John Andrew of Longmont has two daughters in the University. Maxine is a senior and Marian Elizabeth is a junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Kirton are at Malta, Mont. Their elder son, Ned, is a licensed pilot and the younger son, Stewart, is a sophomore in the University of Montana. Kirton is Illustrious Potentate of Algeria Temple A. A. O. N. M. shrine of Helena, Mont. He received his law degree from the University.

Floyd F. Walpole is practicing law at 828 Symes building, Denver, where he would be glad to see any of his old friends. He enjoyed a long vacation last fall in Nova Scotia, Maine and other eastern points. "The best news I know now is that Dr. Norlin is well and back on the job!" he writes.

1907

Olive M. Jones writes us about the death of Florence Slye Bliss, which obituary is in the February issue. Miss Jones is at 1580 Detroit street, Denver, Colo.

1913

Mrs. Helen Scott Maddox is guardian of a Camp Fire group at her home at Toppenish, Wash. She is also superintendent of the Sunday school primary department and president of the Tri Delt valley organization. She was glad to be able to be in Boulder for the reunion and observed the many changes. She enjoyed seeing the familiar faces.

Dr. William Scott McKell is located at Chillicothe, Ohio. He is married and has three small sons.

Dr. D. P. Whitmore is county physician of Duchesse county, Utah, and has been mayor of Roosevelt, Utah, for the past year.

Dr. H. M. Stenhouse is stationed at the naval hospital, Charleston, S. C., having completed a cruise on U. S. S. Detroit in August, reporting for duty at Charleston in October. He would be glad to see any U. C. "grads" who may be driving through.

1918

Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Allen write that they are "enjoying our three daughters, our work and Colorado Alumnus." He is an engineer with the engine division of General Motors Truck corporation, Pontiac, Mich.

Phil H. Carroll is with the Carroll Lumber company at Alexandria, La. He hopes to "live long enough to attend one reunion at Boulder."

Mrs. Clarence C. Borger is living on a ranch at Grover, Colo., where her husband is engaged in raising purebred Shorthorn cattle. Mrs. Borger is a registered nurse.

Mrs. Charles L. Hoffman is still principal of Flume school at Sugar Pine, Calif. She makes an annual Christmas visit to Colorado. Her daughter is 7 years old. The Alumnus is a necessary periodical in her home.

1926

Gerald F. Lang is employed in the electric planning department of the Public Service company of Colorado in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller write from West Asheville, N. C.: "We still have the same dog, same cat and same baby." They enjoyed visits last summer from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Salisbury from Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Connelly of New Jersey. Miller received his degree from the school of law, and Mrs. Miller received her bachelor of arts degree in 1924.

Walter R. Humphrey, editor of the Telegram, Temple, Tex., helped to install a chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, at Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Tex., Jan. 13. He was assisted by Frank Mayborn, '27, business manager of the Telegram. Humphrey served as chairman and master of ceremonies at a city-wide gridiron dinner in Temple, Feb. 3.

Virginia Spurr Ellington moved to Delta, Colo., from Hotchkiss in January. Mr. Ellington is deputy assessor for Delta county. Their little daughter will be two years old in June.

1929

John Rames is a junior member of the law firm of Henry McAllister, Jr., in Denver. His connection with the Denver law office came at the first of the year. During the fall quarter, Rames did graduate work in the University Law School. During last year, following his graduation, he served as private tutor to the two boys of Ex-Senator L. C. Phipps in California.

John Holt was appointed deputy district attorney in San Diego, Calif., in January. After taking the California Bar examination there in September, 1929, he began practicing law in San Diego, where he became active in political circles.

Paul Strong was admitted as a partner in the law firm of Dyees & Jawarski of Houston, Tex., last December.

Gordon Allott, who was named to the All-American position for the 400-yard hurdles in the A. A. U. meet held in Denver last summer, is now practicing law in the firm of Gordon & Gordon in Lamar, Colo.

Sherman Walrod is practicing law with his father in Holyoke, Colo.

Cecil Draper, '29, graduate student of 1930, is doing the trial work for the Denver Tramway Corporation in Denver.

1930

Mrs. Clara Bancroft Garwood, who received her bachelor of arts in August, has been dean of girls and librarian at the Roosevelt Junior High school in Canon City, Colo., for the past six years. She was elected to Kappa Delta Pi last July and Pi Beta Kappa in November.

Taylor B. Davis is attending Harvard Graduate Business school in Massachusetts.

German S. Rovira is working on his B. S. degree in pharmacy. After graduation he will go to La Paz, Bolivia, South America, to visit his parents. He received his Ph. C. in 1930.

William D. Paulson, Jr., is one of the eight or nine C. U. alumni employed by the General Electric company at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Elizabeth Tamplin is teacher of civics in the Niles High school, Niles, Mich.

Ivan Mahanna is working in the shipping department of the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y. He is living in an apartment with four other Colorado boys.

Conrad Ball is practicing law in Fort Collins in the office of William Bryan, attorney.

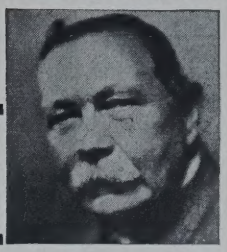
Joseph R. Botleman is practicing law with the firm of Harry P. Voories in Pueblo.

Clare Davis of Denver spent three weeks in Honolulu during the Christmas holidays. She is now practicing law with her father in the firm of Davis and Wallbank.

Thomas Bradshaw is connected with the legal department of the Providence Mutual Life Insurance Company in

FREE

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE



The Complete SHERLOCK HOLMES

CONAN DOYLE MEMORIAL EDITION · · IN TWO VOLUMES

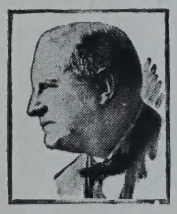
Containing every novel and short story in which Sherlock Holmes appeared; two volumes, on fine thin paper, 1,000 pages each.

—if you subscribe to the Book-of-the-Month Club now. It costs you nothing to belong.

Heywood Broun

Christopher Morley

Dorothy Canfield



William Allen White

Henry Seidel Canby
Chairman

The Editorial Board of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

A GREAT many people (we know) have been on the verge of joining the Book-of-the-Month Club, but have neglected to do so largely through oversight. This special offer is made, frankly, to overcome this procrastination by making it worth while for you not to delay longer. We suggest simply that you get full information at once about what the Book-of-the-Month Club does for you, and then decide once for all whether you want to join. The mere fact that 100,000 judicious book-readers already belong to the organization — that they represent the elite of the land in every profession and every walk of life — that not a single one was induced to join by a salesman or by personal solicitation of any kind, but did so after simply reading the facts about what the Club does for book-readers — all these are indications that it is worth your while at least to get these facts as quickly as possible, and then (if you want to) join. Your only obligation, as a subscriber, is to support the Club by buying from it four or more books a year, out of from 200 to 250 reported upon by the judges. Surely, within the next year, the judges shown here will recommend at least four new books you will be anxious not to miss. Why not — by joining the Club — make sure of getting these, get the many other undoubted conveniences the organization gives book-readers, and also get this two-volume Conan Doyle Memorial Edition free? Send the coupon below at once, and get full details as to how the Club operates.

BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB, Inc.
386 Fourth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Please send me, without cost, a booklet outlining how the Book-of-the-Month Club operates. This request involves me in no obligation to subscribe to your service.

Name _____

C-12

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Books shipped to Canadian members through Book-of-the-Month Club (Canada) Limited

Philadelphia, Penn.

Edgar Dutcher has a law office of his own in Montrose, Colo.

Milton C. Garwood is practicing law with his father, William Garwood, in Denver.

Sidney S. Jacobs is working as assistant to Carl Cline, attorney, in the firm of Cline and Whitehead of Denver.

Stephen Park Kinney has opened a law office for himself in Boulder. On the side he has headed the organization of University fraternities which does cooperative buying of supplies for their groups.

Julia Shapiro has recently taken the Wyoming State Bar examination in Cheyenne.

Ward Showalter is working in Denver doing special research work in the field of federal jurisprudence.

Sherwood B. Stanley is working in New York City in the legal department of the Western Electric company.

Marion Wilford is practicing law in Boulder with the firm of Goss and Hutchinson.

MARRIAGES

RISLEY-BAGNALL—Miss Virginia Risley and Donald Bagnall were married Feb. 19 at the home of the bride's parents in Pueblo. Mrs. Bagnall attended the University for three years and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Last year she was a student at the University of California. Bagnall, who was graduated from the Pharmacy school at Colorado University in 1929, was basketball captain his senior year. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is now connected with a drug company at National City, Calif., where the couple will reside.

EISTER-TINGLOF—The marriage of Miss Mary Eister and Birger Tinglof took place Feb. 21 in the chapel of the Wilshire Methodist church, Los Angeles, Calif. The Rev. Wilsie Martin read the service. Their attendants were her sister, Mrs. James W. McClune, and a friend of the groom, Clifford Cole. Mrs. Tinglof received her degree from U. C. L. A. in 1930. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Tinglof is a graduate of the University of Colorado receiving his law degree in 1919. For a time he was associated with Martin and Newcomer in Boulder and later became deputy district attorney. At the end of his term of office he went to Los Angeles where he has practiced law. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. He also attended Harvard before coming to the University. The couple are making their home at 220 South Carson road, Beverly Hills.

DEATHS

JENNIE MAGRUDGE WHITAKER

Mrs. Jennie Magrudge Whitaker, mother of Milton C. Whitaker, died at her home in Durango, Colo., Feb. 11.

Milton Whitaker, who is holder of the Perkin Medal in Chemistry and head of a large chemical corporation in New York City, was graduated from the University in 1898, where he was an instructor in chemistry. He received his M. S. degree in 1900, and an honorary degree in 1913.

Two other sons, Orvil, of Denver, and Fred, of Reno, Nev., survive. Her granddaughter, Mary Whitaker, was graduated from the University in 1928.

JAMES P. POLLARD

James P. Pollard died unexpectedly in a hospital at Detroit, Mich., Jan. 27, of cerebral meningitis.

He was born in Harrison, Ark., and came to Denver with his parents in 1916. He was graduated from the University of Colorado in 1925, receiving his B. S. degree in electrical engineering. For three years he had been employed as an engineer with the Surface Combustion company of Toledo, O. His father, Dr. J. W. Pollard, lives in Denver.

Funeral services were held at the Olinger mortuary, Denver and were in charge of the Highland Masonic lodge of which he was a member.

WILLENA B. RICHARDSON

Mrs. Robert M. Richardson, Jr., died at Ekalaka, Mont., Feb. 21. She was music supervisor in the high school at Ekalaka, where her husband is principal.

Mrs. Richardson was formerly Willena B. Porter, daughter of Mrs. Clara Porter, 550 Marine street, Boulder. She was graduated from Prep high school with high honors and attended the University of Colorado in 1920 and 1921, where she was a member of Asaph musical sorority and the University chapel choir. She was also a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational sorority. She was art editor of the Coloradoan for two years. She was supervisor of music and art in the high school at Fort Lupton, Colo., for two years.

On Aug. 29, 1928, she was married to Robert M. Richardson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Richardson, Boulder. He was graduated from C. U. in 1918, and obtained his M. A. degree in 1930.

Funeral services were held at Ekalaka, Feb. 23, according to the wish of Mrs. Richardson.

EDWARD CUNEO

Edward Cuneo, who was graduated from the law school at the University of Colorado last June, died Feb. 21 from the effects of a heart attack. Cuneo had been practicing law in Beeville, Tex., since his graduation. He was a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, and was well known on the campus and in Boulder.

The body was brought to Boulder by his brother, Henry, of Omaha, and an uncle, Robert Ferrero, of Denver. Funeral services were held Saturday morning, Feb. 28, at Sacred Heart church with Father Agatho reading the requiem mass. Interment was made in Green Mountain cemetery.

E. VAL PUTNAM

E. Val Putnam, 53, died Feb. 28 at St. Francis hospital, Wichita, Kan., after a short illness with pneumonia. He was a veteran newspaper man, being news editor of the Wichita Beacon at the time of his death. He was the father of Eugene Putnam, who was graduated in 1930 from the University of Colorado. Besides his son, who is a member of the reportorial staff of the Chicago American, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Putnam. Interment was in a Wichita cemetery.

GRACE SHIPPEY

Grace Shippey died at Porter's Sanitarium, Denver, March 8, after a short illness. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Shippey of Saguache, Colo., and was graduated from the University of Colorado in 1927. Her major work was done in journalism and education. She was woman's editor of the Silver and Gold, student publication, and was a charter member of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women. She also was a member of Delta Delta Delta, social sorority. She taught journalism in the Canon City school after her graduation. Interment was made in Fairmount Mausoleum, Denver.

KEEPS THE HUM OUT OF THE TALKIES!

Greatest advance since TALKIES came!!!

Soon you will hear talking pictures made with all the humming and scratching noises barred out. A revolutionary new process, Noiseless Recording, gives you every word and note in its natural tones — clean cut and true to life.

Western Electric proclaims Noiseless Recording far and away the greatest advance since it first made talking pictures possible four years ago.

Ever since, its engineers have kept on their research, seeking perfection in the application of sound to making and showing pictures. They have introduced many improvements, and now the most important of all — Noiseless Recording.

Leading producers, quick to apply this latest gift of science, are now making pictures which will thrill you with their undreamed-of realism. You can hear them to best advantage, of course, in theaters equipped with the Western Electric Sound System.

Western Electric

NEW PROCESS

Noiseless Recording for Talking Pictures

Makers of your Bell Telephone and leaders in the development of sound transmission.

3 0112 105624982

WHAT better advertising medium than one reaching the Leaders in all fields?

Colorado Alumnus subscribers, 3200 in number, constitutes an advertising clientele no advertiser can afford to overlook.

Come up to

BLANCHARD LODGE

For Something Better

SPECIAL SUNDAY EVENING SUPPERS

Phone 1463 for Reservations
Four Miles Up Boulder Canyon

It is the "Think" that counts

▼▼ PRINTING always was and always will be an intellectual occupation. Good printing can only be achieved by the printer who thinks as he works. . . . The difference between good and bad printing is the quality of the thinking that goes into it. This quality should not be governed by the character of the job. It's all printing, and to do good printing, one must think. In our plant we consider "think" as important an ingredient as paper, ink and type.

Telephone
TAbor 5205

The A. B. Hirschfeld Press
CONSULTING PRINTERS
1846 California Street ▼ Denver, Colorado